What is Color Guard? Color guard can be found in most American Colleges, Universities, High Schools, and Independent Drum Corps. Color guard uses various equipment, such as flags, rifles, and sabres, along with dance, to express dynamic passages in the music accompanying the marching band show.

Usually marching bands and color guards perform during football games at halftime, out of tradition. During marching band competitions, the guard adds to the overall score of the band and is also judged in a category usually called auxiliary. Color guard has since evolved into a separate activity known as Winter Guard, which is an indoor sport where the guard performs unaccompanied by the band, to a piece of pre-recorded music, usually during the winter and spring. Winter guards compete independently in such circuits as Winter Guard International (WGI).

We hope to see YOU on Monday, June 13th!!!
